

Tri-Valley participating in Give a Day — Get a Disney Day

In 2010, Disney hopes to inspire community volunteerism through the “Give a Day, Get a Disney Day” program. One million people who perform volunteer service for a participating organization will receive a one-day ticket to a Disney theme park. Starting January 1, 2010, you can go to www.disneyparks.com to search for volunteer opportunities. You will see that Tri-Valley is registered as a community partner with a number of volunteer opportunities listed. Potential and current volunteers must register through the Disney website. Jayne Cacciapuoti, Community Support Services Director, is coordinating the program at Tri-Valley and can offer further information if needed.